Military Notices.

From the 2d Regiment of New-Jersey.

The Colonel of the 2d Regiment of the New-Jersey Brigade, now at Head Springs, Fairfax County, Virginia, presents the sincere and most grateful acknowledgements of the Officers of the Regiment to the Editors and Proprietors of The New-York and Daily Tribune, for the promptness and regularity of the delivery of the Twelve Copies of The Daily Tribune, which were so kindly and generously proffered when the Volunteer Forces first took the field. The Colonel is but expressing the universal sentiment of the Regiment in saying that the Volunteers abstain the hope that this unselfish and considerate action and boon, will meet with the reward to which it is entitled, and which follows all good deeds.

HENRY M. BAKER,
Colonel Commanding 2d Regiment.

Camp Princeton, Fairfax Co., Virginia, June 4, 1861.

A TREATISE ON MARITIME LAW.

By Hon. THEOPHILUS PARSONS, LL. D.

2 vols., $10. $11.

Recently published by

LITTLE, BROWN & CO.,
No. 10 Washington-st., Boston.

The Boston Daily Advertiser, in a late notice of this work, May says: "The great variety of questions of maritime law now arising and requiring practical decision, demand some book both for lawyers and business men to find some practical and scientific discussion of these topics. We think that such will be found in Professor Parsons' new treatise on Maritime Law, which we have just seen. The author has treated of all the important subjects touched upon in this work, the topics of Blockade, and how far it is suspended or annulled; contracts of affreightment, convey, contractual, capture, and the like; insurance, reinsurance, marine loss, marine jettison, marine salvage, foreign bills in case of prize, and the warranty of neutrality in insurance. In all matters where maritime law is affected by the present state of affairs, we think that this will work will be found to meet the want of such knowledge in this subject."

On all the above topics, and others connected with them, the leading authorities in England and America are cited, and their principal conclusions stated.
